HKSAR*

It is my honour to join you in celebrating this year's PHKAN Annual Conferment, and pay tribute to nurses locally for their selfless devotion and professionalism in providing care to all people who are in need in health care and humanitarian setting.

Over the past decades, Hong Kong has developed a universally accessible and highly efficient healthcare system capable of delivering good quality and affordable healthcare services to the population. This could not have been possible without our highly diligent, devoted and professional nursing force. Their selfless dedication and commitment have helped alleviate the pain and suffering of many patients and brought comfort to families in distress. Their paramount contribution to healthcare services has won the trust and respect of members of our community.

As we celebrate the contributions of the nursing profession, we are pleased that our professional nursing colleagues have continuously strived to further advance in the areas of professional training and development, nursing clinical practice, specialty nursing development as well as nursing and healthcare management.

The establishment of the Provisional HK Academy of Nursing as the organizational platform in driving the various advancement initiatives is testimony to the profession's effort in ensuring and elevating nursing practice standard and the quality of patient care and healthcare in keeping with changing needs of our society.

I wish the Academy and all our professional nursing colleagues every success in your pursuit for excellence.

Ms. TSUI Sau Han Shirley
Principal Nursing Officer, Department of Health

It is my great pleasure to be here today to celebrate the PHKAN Annual Conferment. I am glad to see that nurses are appreciated for their devotion towards their profession. Nurses today are showered with love and blessings.

Nurses are the backbone of the health care systems worldwide. Our workforce is important for supporting the delivery of safe, high quality and efficient health services and plays a significant role in improving the health of all. To implement better nursing workforce planning, we must ensure that all nurses possess the required professional competencies to do the work, and the ability to respond to new challenges.

In Hong Kong, nurses are innovative professionals with a wealth of skills and knowledge. Nurses in different settings focus on the care of individuals, families, and communities that they may attain, maintain, or recover optimal health and quality of life. We achieve the set goals through the art and science of nursing and through our humanity. Most importantly, the cornerstones for our care rest in our values, vision, norms and professional ethics. I have great pride to say that our profession has always been, and will continue to be a global force for change in better health. We are expert professionals and humanitarians, committed to working together and with others, and to achieve our goals in improving the health of the populations we serve. With our concerted efforts, I am confident that the bright future of our profession is in place.

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE

Ms. LIU Wai Han Jane

Chief Manager (Nursing) / Chief Nurse Executive, Hospital Authority

It is my great pleasure to extend my heartiest congratulations to The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing (PHKAN) on this memorable occasion of its Annual Fellow Conferment Ceremony.

PHKAN is an independent institution to organize, monitor, assess and accredit all nursing specialist training programs and to oversee the provision of continuing specialist nursing education. During the planning stages of its establishment, nurses from every stakeholder group in Hong Kong were invited to open forums, planning meetings and workshops to provide input. The consensus drawn at the various meetings is that there are needs for the advancement of the nursing profession to the advanced practice level, in line with societal demand and the global trend of development in nursing. The PHKAN is charged with the responsibility to regulate the practices of Advanced Practice Nurses to safeguard the public's right to receive safe and quality health care services.

PHKAN is committed to strive for excellence in achieving safe and quality healthcare that can benchmark with international standards, through regulating advanced nursing practice.

As the first Academy of Nursing being proposed in Asian countries, the PHKAN is very well respected by many professional organizations in China as well as overseas. To share the international professional issues and trend to global practice news, the PHKAN has the successful bid of hosting the 9th International Council of Nurses (ICN) International Nurse Practitioner / Advanced Practice Nursing Network Conference in 2016.

In the years to come, I am confident that PHKAN will continue to grow and flourish in the pursuit of professional excellence for our nurses in Hong Kong and I wish the PHKAN every success in its future endeavors.

PATRON'S ADDRESS

Dr. LEONG Che Hung, GBM, GBS, OBE, JP

Patron, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing

It is a great pleasure to extend my warmest congratulations to the Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing (PHKAN) on the occasion of its 2014 Annual Fellowship Conferment.

We, as healthcare professionals, undoubtedly have a responsibility to provide safe and quality healthcare to the community of Hong Kong in par with international standards. In order to achieve the best professional standards, advanced nursing practice has to be supported with postgraduate education, continuous specialty training and eventually legal protection of the title. Advanced practice nurses are clinical leaders they are accountable for providing quality care to the clients in their specialty area. The PHKAN takes on the mission to recognize these advanced practice nurses and ensuring their competence to protect the well-being of the public. Each year, I am delighted to witness the admission of dedicated nurses to the Fellowship of the fourteen specialty academy colleges. I am sure your passion will inspire other junior nurses and midwives to strive for a higher standard of education and practice, and together we build a stronger healthcare team for our community.

Lastly, I would like to take this opportunity to wish the PHKAN another successful year to come and look forward to the establishment of a Statutory Academy of Nursing in Hong Kong.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Dr. LUM Shun Sui Susie

President, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing

It is my greatest pleasure to welcome all of you, our honorable guests, friends, and Fellows of the Academy here today to witness another 1,040 experienced nurses being admitted to the Fellowship of the Academy, bringing our total figure to 3,325. I am truly delighted to see more and more nurses in Hong Kong being honoured as advanced practice nurses in their relevant disciplines. This honour not only reflects their exceptional contributions to nursing, medical science and practice in their respective expertise but also their outstanding leadership in the promotion of research, education and health services policy and development in Hong Kong. More importantly, it represents their courage and willingness to embrace challenges and changes in order to meet the ever-increasing healthcare demand of our society. With inspiration comes the motivation to make a difference for the society and ourselves. This year the Academy has the great honour to bestow Honorary Fellowship to four inspirational leaders in the Medical and Nursing Profession, namely: Dr. York Chow Yat Ngok, Prof. Rosie Tse Tse Young, Ms. Beatrice Chan and Dr. Judith Shamian. It is indeed an extraordinary privilege for me as President to extend the Academy's congratulations to all of them and sincere thanks to their outstanding contributions to healthcare and nursing, and also their perseverance in shaping a better living environment for every person on earth at large.

Change is a constant in our lives. It is happening all around us, every day, all of the time. Benjamin Franklin once said, "When you're finished changing, you're finished." This is particularly relevant to today's world where communications and technology are changing in every instant. So is disease. New viruses could evolve silently anytime. We, as nurses, have to be equipped with the adaptability to cope in the face of adversity and novelty. As a major part of the frontline workers in health care, we need to learn to quickly and effectively adjust ourselves to the imminent danger of disease outbreaks and catastrophes. This therefore sets the basis of the PHKAN that is to lead growth and advancement of the nursing profession and promote collaboration and solidarity among nurse specialties. Our Fellows have the undeniable responsibility to mentor young nurses about the importance of grasping every opportunity to change, in addition to the practical skills and knowledge to provide good quality of nursing care, as change is an important process that helps each of us to grow into a mature person. It broadens our horizon, helps us set new goals, and arouses us into action instead of constantly being caught in a daily routine. Being able to embrace change and accept change without trying to prevent it means that you can be ready to react to whatever the world throws at you especially during catastrophic situations.

The journey of working towards the HKAN statutory status is ongoing and involves lots of challenges. Yet seeing Hong Kong with our aging population and rising healthcare burden, we know this is the time more than ever before to make a shift in our delivery of nursing. Hence, we have been summoning our positive energy and painstaking spirit with confidence to get all nurses, our fellows, stakeholders and friends on board to share our passion and vision. Together we are making a clear and loud voice to the government officials that Hong Kong needs a statutory organization dedicated to advance the nursing profession for a better and healthier Hong Kong. We are fortunate to have a large team of supporters, who are inspirational and passionate leaders, walking with us through this long journey. Just to name a few. I would like to offer special thanks to Dr. LEONG Che Hung, our Patron, for his unfailing support and valuable guidance to the Academy from day one, when the preparatory committee was established. To our many Advisors either locally or overseas, my heartfelt thanks for contributing their wisdom and precious time to our work. To Mr. Lester Huang, Mr. Tony Yen and Mr. William Chan, my respectful salute for advising us in timely manner on the legal, accounting and auditing domain of our work. Last but not least, my deep appreciation goes to all the Council Members, Academy Colleges, Organizing Committee Members, volunteers, friends of nurses and staff for their dedicated contributions and determination in growing the Academy together. Indeed, I am ever mindful that all excellence in the life of the mind, body and spirit of the Academy, all begin and end with you, the Council. Thank you.

We are a team so let us move forward to write together another glorious chapter in the Academy's history. And let me end with echoing Bill Clinton's words, "The price of doing the same old thing is far higher than the price of change"! Good health and God bless you all.

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE

Dr. CHAN Hon Yee Constance, JP

Director of Health

Advisor, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing

It is my great pleasure to congratulate the Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing on the occasion of Annual Fellowship Conferment. I would also like to take the opportunity to express my heartfelt and most sincere thanks to nurses around the globe as they celebrate the International Nurses Day.

Nurses are at the heart of our healthcare system. Nurses play important roles in the protection, promotion, and optimization of health and abilities, prevention of illness and injury, alleviation of suffering through the diagnosis and treatment of human response, and advocacy in the care of individuals, families, communities, and populations.

There is no doubt that nurses in Hong Kong serve our community with their genuine love, professional demeanor and commitment, providing promotive, preventive, curative and rehabilitative services to safeguard the health of our community. I would like to commend our nurses for their dedication and hard work that has been put into reducing mortality, alleviating suffering and improving the health of Hong Kong people.

Given the health threats and ever-evolving health needs around the world, I can see opportunities in leading change awaiting for the nursing profession. I would encourage nurses to provide leadership and demonstrate professional competence in all healthcare areas. Nurse leaders need to be well equipped with contemporary professional knowledge and skills through continuing education to help lead and shape Hong Kong's healthcare system to meet future challenges. Furthermore, nurses must learn to influence, negotiate and build alliances with our key stakeholders to improve the health of the community through a better coordinated service delivery across the continuum of care. I wish all the nurse leaders of the Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing every success as they continue their journey as change agents.

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE

Dr. CHEUNG Wai Lun

*Director (Cluster services), Hospital Authority
Advisor, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing*

It is with great pleasure that I extend my heartfelt congratulations to celebration of the contribution and accomplishments of our nursing colleagues on the Third Conferment of The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing (PHKAN).

Nursing practice forms the very essence of primary health care. As the pillar of quality in health care, nurse practitioners entail an active role in enhancing professionalism in nursing care services in Hong Kong. Driven by inquisitive minds, nurses always serve their patients professionally and enthusiastically with caring heart. With the advances in technology and changing in socio-demographic dynamics together with escalating patient expectations, our nurses strive to enhance their contribution to professional excellence. Their passions, selfless dedication and commitment as well as determination in upholding quality of healthcare are comparable to no other professions.

The PHKAN signifies an important and key milestone for Hong Kong's nursing professional advancement. Today, the PHKAN welcomes 1,040 new fellows to the family. The PHKAN continues to uphold the highest professional standard of ethical integrity and competence which unquestionably further advance the quality of health care in Hong Kong.

Taking this auspicious opportunity, I offer my sincere gratitude and warmest congratulations to each of the nursing colleagues for their continuous commitment and strive for advancing professional excellence. I also offer best wishes for the continued success of PHKAN in developing the nursing profession in Hong Kong.

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE

Ms. HAU Wai Lei Florence

*Chairman, Midwives Council of Hong Kong
Advisor, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing*

Time flies, another year has gone since the second Fellowship Conferment Ceremony of the Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing. The Academy is celebrating its third birthday in May this year. Once again, I like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to all your team members for striving so hard to advance the Nursing and Midwifery profession. I understand that the journey towards the formal establishment of a statutory body is not easy. With your dedication and concerted effort, I have confidence that light can be seen at the end of the tunnel. I wish you every success in achieving the goal.

Dr. HUGHES, Frances

*Chief Nursing and Midwifery Officer, Department of Health, Queensland Health
Advisor, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing*

I congratulate you on your success in being conferred into the PHKAN. You have now become Fellows of a highly esteemed organisation. By the conferment you have demonstrated leadership ability within your speciality area of the profession. Hong Kong is very privileged to have PHKAN and to now have you as a Fellow. Nursing is at the forefront of change in our global communities. One of the best ways to ensure that all nurses engage in providing solutions to problems facing our countries and health services is for nurses to be engaged in an organised way through professional organisations. Your fellow brings with it a commitment to work for the success of PHKAN and for you to deliver high standard of care for your patients, working in many partnerships such as government, policy leaders, politicians, public health officials, academics and consumer groups. Now as a fellow you need to maintain your ongoing learning, education is a key to understanding the complexity of our health care systems and the application of the latest research and evidence into practice. Maintain your ability at all time to be positive, keep an open mind to new ideas and listen to your patients and families. As a fellow you are now a role model and a leader for others to model and follow. You have to maintain yourself as a professional and be available to support and mentor others who also want to become fellows in the future. In your hospital and communities that you work, you will now be called upon to provide direction and advise to other nurses and members of the wider multidisciplinary team, I ask you to always hold your head high, demonstrate what it is to be a fellow of PHKAN.

I thank PHKAN for the ongoing honour of being an international advisor, and wish you all the best for the conferment.

Dr. LI Kwok Tung Donald

President, Hong Kong Academy of Medicine

Advisor, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing

Hong Kong has always been recognized as having one of the most well-established healthcare systems in the region. Our elderly citizens are also among the longest living individuals in the world. Nurses are critical in maintaining a healthy society, and the role they play in the medical team is pivotal. They are key players in the multidisciplinary primary care team now considered the most effective approach to managing health problems. Besides working collaboratively with doctors and other healthcare workers to provide essential services and care to patients, nurses also help to promote health and educate the public on the prevention of illnesses.

Nursing is becoming a dynamic field that offers career opportunities at different levels. Nurse education in many parts of the world is also undergoing the process of diversification towards advancement and specialization. The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing (PHKAN) shares the same mission as the Hong Kong Academy of Medicine (HKAM), aiming to maintain high standards through specialist training and continuing education. With growing expectations from the public and a rapidly aging population, these are crucial to ensure competencies and the delivery of professional healthcare services that are of international standards.

On behalf of the HKAM, may I congratulate all the newly admitted Fellows on their achievements, and wish them great success in the years ahead.

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE

Prof. MCBRIDE, Angela B.

*Distinguished Professor & University Dean Emerita,
Indiana University School of Nursing
Advisor, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing*

I deeply regret not being with you in person to commemorate the third annual fellowship conferral of the Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing (PHKAN) and celebration of International Nurses Day 2014. The fact that our PHKAN President, Dr. Susie Lum, was awarded the 44th Florence Nightingale Medal by the International Commission of Red Cross is a special reason for us to celebrate. She is being recognized for her pioneering spirit in public health and nursing education, and she serves as a fitting symbol for the values of the PHKAN. Florence Nightingale was born in 1820 and 194 years later Dr. Susie Lum and the PHKAN membership seek to carry on the reform spirit and commitment to improved health care that she set in motion. Like Nightingale, the PHKAN seeks to promote evidence-based practice, sound hospital administration, the development of nursing knowledge, and the use of statistics in the service of healthcare reform. PHKAN's Nursing Charter on Tobacco Control Project and April 2014 Health Carnival are but two examples of this dedication to the public good that we celebrate on this occasion. I wish the PHKAN another successful year to come, striving towards the ultimate goal of reaching the statutory status to regulate advanced nursing practice in Hong Kong!

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE

Prof. PANG Mei Che Samantha

Chairman, Nursing Council of Hong Kong

Advisor, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing

Congratulations to all new fellows for receiving the recognition of your contributions to the specialty fields of practice in this conferment ceremony. On commencing an advanced role in your professional practice, I hope that you will take a proactive role in nurturing a new professionalism in the delivery of healthcare services. Such new professionalism, as advocated in the Lancet Commissions Education of Health Professionals for the 21st century (2010), uses competencies as objective criteria for classification of health professionals grounded in social accountability by upholding a common set of values in service provision that cherish shared decision making, interdependence, empowerment, collaboration and partnership. Instead of focusing on defending one's disciplinary-specific values and fitness of practice to be aligned with one's professional boundary, the focus will be shifted to how all involving providers can contribute based on their competencies and resources for a common goal, that is, addressing the health needs and improving the health outcomes of the people that they serve. I hope that you will engage in nurturing this new professionalism in your field of practice as well as living a flourishing and happy life.

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE

Dr. TUNG Sau Ying Nancy

*Cluster Chief Executive, Kowloon West Cluster
Advisor, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing*

I am deeply honored to be invited to join you in celebrations for PHKAN Annual Conferment, a day when we gather to reflect on the achievements of our nursing colleagues, and express our gratitude for your hard work and dedication. To cope with increasing demand and public expectations, health services have undergone rapid transformations in recent years. Scopes of practices are changing, and you have the dual roles of caring for the sick and promoting health. The way we work now is also very much influenced by new technologies. To meet with these challenges, the Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing (PHKAN) has the formidable task of ensuring we have a competent workforce that delivers care of the highest quality.

As one of the largest group of health professionals, you are also the closest to the frontline. With professionalism and commitment, you have helped to lead, drive and deliver many healthcare changes in Hong Kong. It is only fitting that the theme for this year's celebration is Nurses: A Force for Change – A Vital Resource for Health.

May I offer you my warmest congratulations, and wish you every success in the coming year.

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE

Dr. WHITEHEAD, Tanya

*Research Associate Professor, University of Missouri, USA
Advisor, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing*

I wish to offer my heartfelt congratulations to PHKAN, to each of the new Fellows of 2014, and to the community of professional nursing in Hong Kong! Your hard work and determination to succeed is impressive. The International community of nurses has great respect for your teamwork, dedication, and your unwavering courage to achieve your goals.

New Fellows, by the honor bestowed upon you today, you have joined those who came before you and put your hand to the wheel of a groundbreaking ship, The Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing, Ltd. This professional organization is of highest value to the community. Through the efforts of the leaders over the years, PHKAN has provided protections for the public and enhanced professionalism of the field of nursing in Hong Kong.

Fellows, you join those who came before you in dedication to the highest goals in nursing. These are: service to the public, achievement of highest academic excellence, and honor through the faultless performance of your professional duties.

This day represents the highest achievement for all of you: for PHKAN and for each government official, educational institution, and public partner of the organization; as well as for the 2014 Fellows. All have an investment that only comes to fruition through you, the Fellow.

While distance has forced me to follow your progress from afar, I feel a rush of pride to see you lift your banner of excellence in knowledge and service in nursing. My congratulations to each 2014 Fellow and to the PHKAN! My respect for the wonderful work you are doing!

Although I cannot be there with you today, I send a joyous cheer from your friends across the sea! May each of you, 2014 Fellows, arise to play a wise and generative role in nurturing those who follow in your brave footsteps.

Membership

1. Institutional Member

PHKAN has recognized 14 Academy Colleges as Institutional Members. These are registered organizations to provide certification of individuals as advanced practice nurses in specialties recognized by the PHKAN.

2. Fellow Members

We have 28 Founding Members who have contributed to the development of the Hong Kong Academy of Nursing Preparatory Committee and the subsequent establishment of the PHKAN.

Advanced Practice Nurses from 14 Colleges were admitted as Fellows under the grandfathering scheme. These are registered nurse / registered midwives with over 15 years in specialized practice and demonstrated significant contribution to specialty service development.

3. Honorary Fellow Members

The PHKAN takes great pride to have admitted renowned individuals as Honorary Fellows who have contributed to the establishment of the Academy and had offered their expertise to enhance the development of professional nursing in Hong Kong.

Achievements in the Past Year

1. PHKAN Office

With the genuine support of the Princess Margaret Hospital (PMH) and Hospital Authority, PHKAN is licensed the use of the Nursing School office at PMH as the operating office for the PHKAN and Academy Colleges. After renovation, the office working environment was greatly improved with proper office setup and better equipment. In addition, the conference room, lounge, meeting room and corridor each has also been renovated to enhance the professional image of the PHKAN. Three full-time staff members have been employed to provide secretarial support to the Council and to provide more timely information for members.

2. Nursing Charter on Tobacco Control Project

With the funding support from The Hong Kong Council on Smoking and Health (COSH), 8 programs, focusing on smoking cessation, public education, nurses' training and survey, have been successfully executed by the 14 Colleges after the signing of the Charter. Over 10,000 nurses, 1,500 nursing students and 10,000 public participated in this Tobacco Control Project. Among these programs are Community Activities on promotion of smoking cessation were broadly carried out in 18 districts of Hong Kong from June 2013 to January 2014. A video on successful smoking quitters was produced and would be broadcasted to public through HA channel. An Anti-Smoking School Campaign was successfully completed with over 1,600 entries from primary school students. We were honored to have Prof. Sophia CHAN to officiate the Award Ceremony cum Seminar in January 2014. To provide health education on smoking cessation to smoking pregnant women, we designed and printed a booklet in mid-February 2014. 20,000 copies have been distributed to Maternal and Child Health Centers, antenatal clinics and obstetric units in HA and private hospitals. Educational talks and workshops to nurses on the skill and approach to promote smoking cessation in clinical areas were organized for over 800 nurses and 1,500 nursing students. Last but not least, a national survey in collaboration with COSH and WHOCC was conducted to examine nurses' participation in smoking cessation intervention in their clinical setting. Over 10,000 sets of questionnaires were distributed to nursing staff with a return rate of over 40%.

THE PROVISIONAL HONG KONG ACADEMY OF NURSING

3. Promotion of PHKAN to stakeholders

As a way to promote PHKAN to various stakeholders and to establish close connection with them, we organized a number of meetings with different individuals in the past year. For example, the PHKAN President and Council members met with the new HA Chairman, Professor John LEONG and briefed him on the development of PHKAN. We also organized other parties to meet with the Nursing Council, Midwives Council, Secretary for Food and Health and GMNs. There was lunch meeting with 7 Executive Committees together with Prof. Sophia CHAN, Under Secretary, Food and Health, held on 17 February 2014. All the stakeholders agreed on our mission and gave very encouraging support.

4. Establishment of Education Committee

Education Committee was recently established to prepare for the coordination work on Examination of Fellowship.

5. Dr. Susie LUM and Prof. Sylvia FUNG were awarded “Leader of the Year 2013” by Sing Tao News Corporation Limited

“Leader of the Year” Award is an annual event established by Sing Tao News Corporation Limited since 1994. The Award recognizes and encourages the achievements of Hong Kong's finest individuals who have made outstanding contributions towards the HKSAR's success and prosperity, linking it to the Greater China and the international community. ### 6. Towards a Statutory HK Academy of Nursing

The PHKAN exists solely for the purpose of the establishment of the Hong Kong Academy of Nursing (HKAN). The PHKAN serves an important function to undertake preparatory work in constructing the infrastructure and regulatory mechanism and to make way for the impending HKAN. With the solid ground work achieved in the past years, the PHKAN Council has brought the important mission forward. A series of strategic steps had been taken towards the legislative process of the Hong Kong Academy of Nursing Ordinance. Strong supports are confirmed and a lot of valuable advice is gathered in the process as evidence of our concerted effort and shared vision towards a statutory Hong Kong Academy of Nursing by the nursing profession.

The Hong Kong College of Gerontology Nursing

Background

Our Founding Association is the "Hong Kong Geriatric Nurses Association", which was established in 1997 by a group of enthusiastic and dedicated gerontological nurses. The Association was renamed as the "Hong Kong College of Gerontology Nursing (HKCGN)" in January 2010. Since its inception in 1997, the College has provided a wide variety of educational courses, seminars and workshops that are specific to the care of older people with the aims to raise the awareness of carers and health care professionals with updated knowledge and specialized practices in the nursing of older people. Moreover, our College has been accredited as a Continuing Nursing Education (CNE) Provider since 2006. In the year of 2013 & 2014, we have conferred more than 100 Fellows under the Grandfathering Scheme of the Provisional Hong Kong Academy of Nursing. Hence, we are focusing on the development of the College Fellowship Program, and continue to promote the high standard of nursing care for older people.

1. To enhance the knowledge and expertise in gerontological nursing;
2. To promote understanding, communications and welfare of nurses working for older people;
3. To develop a local identity for Hong Kong nurses who specialized in caring of older people;
4. To initiate and develop continuous gerontological nursing education and nursing research activities.
