I am very delighted to extend my warmest congratulations to the Academy on its annual Fellowship Conferment Ceremony 2016.

Over the years, nurses have been serving our community with a strong sense of commitment and play essential roles in the health care system, promoting the health of our population and ensuring delivery of quality and safe health services to clients. Nurses' roles will surely advance further under the current healthcare direction, shouldering extended and expanded roles. Facing the challenges brought about by emerging social, political, economic, environmental and health trends, nurses need to develop the skills and competencies required to keep pace with the changing health care needs. With the mission to accrediting advanced practice nursing, the Academy has contributed significantly in enhancing the professional development of nurses. Thanks to the Academy's effort, there were constant updates and exchange of information among nurses and health practitioners, fostering a spirit of collaboration in the nursing community and promoting the improvement of nursing care. I would like to take this opportunity to pay tribute to the Academy for its unfailing commitment to safeguarding the public by ensuring that nurses consistently deliver safe and quality health care services.

On this joyous occasion, may I wish the Academy every success in the coming future and all members of the Academy a very happy, healthy and prosperous year.

Ms. LIU Wai Han Jane

Chief Manager (Nursing) / Chief Nurse Executive Hospital Authority

I have much pleasure to congratulate the Hong Kong Academy of Nursing (HKAN) on the celebration of its fifth Annual Fellowship Conferment 2016.

On this important occasion, I would like to express my sincere gratitude and warmest congratulations to the nurses for their continuous commitment and striving for quality health care services to all people in need.

“Nurses: A Force for Change – Improving Health Systems’ Resilience” is the theme of celebration in this year. At the moment, Hong Kong is experiencing great challenges on the healthcare demand arisen from her growing and aging population. The ability to prepare for different challenges and get over it is a key indicator for a successful healthcare system. Nurses play an integral part in the health care system where the importance of nursing at all levels has undoubtedly been recognized. Nurses take an important role in leading change, every decision that nurses make in their practice may have a significant impact on the resilience of the healthcare system.

I deeply appreciate the efforts made by the HKAN in developing nursing professionalism as well as upholding the highest professional standard. I am confident that the HKAN will continue to flourish and develop in the pursuit of professional excellence for Hong Kong’s nursing profession.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Dr. LUM Shun Sui Susie

President, The Hong Kong Academy of Nursing

It is my greatest pleasure to welcome all of you, our honorable guests, and friends from Beijing, Guangdong, Macau, Singapore and Fellows of the Academy here today to take part in the 2016 Annual Fellow Conferment Ceremony of The Hong Kong Academy of Nursing (HKAN). After the conferment of grandfather Fellow Membership in 2014, this year we are admitting our first group of 8 Fellows to the Academy who have reached this stage through vigorous examinations and assessment. We salute and congratulate them for this achievement. Being our tradition since 2012, this year the Academy also has the great honour to bestow Honorary Fellowship to seven inspirational leaders, namely: Dr. Chan Chok Wan, Professor Leong Chi Yan John, Dr. Li Kwok Tung Donald, Ms. Liu Yuk Ling Elaine, Mr. Ng Kwong Wah Allen, Professor Pang Kong Yee (彭剛藝教授), and Professor Wong Chi Sang Martin. These leaders have been making selfless contributions to healthcare, nursing and the community. This is not only the Academy's honour but also a personal extraordinary privilege as President to extend the Academy's congratulations to all of them. I have to say that the Ceremony this year is particularly meaningful to me, as our President Elect, Professor Frances Wong, will succeed as President of HKAN in June this year. No doubt with her vast experience and robust leadership, Professor Wong will lead the Academy to new heights. I have confidence that we all will continue to give her and the Academy our strong support.

In addition, I am confident that our nurses will ceaselessly summon their courage, willingness and resiliency to make contributions and to embrace challenges and changes for a better healthcare and nursing environment for every Hong Kong resident. In order to achieve so, we must not only aim to strengthen our professional practice but also to reach out to our community and to participate actively in health education, preventive medicine, and chronic disease management. Indeed, our senior advanced practice nurses have the essential skills set to guide our profession. They have the primary responsibilities of mentoring and nurturing our junior nurses to learn the noble values and beliefs of the nursing profession. In this regard, collaborative team work would be important for creating innovative community services and new clinical initiatives as well as providing support to patient groups. Advanced nursing knowledge and skills can equip nurses with competence to provide high quality nursing care which is especially crucial for building rapport and trust with patients and their significant others.

To advance the professionalism, knowledge and practice of the nursing profession, the HKAN has been active in both local and overseas healthcare arena. At the international level, we were invited to the Global Advisory Panel on the Future of Nursing (GAPFON) First Regional Meeting with Key South East Asia and Pacific Rim Nurse Leaders. During the pre-meeting, we confirmed that priority issues and action strategies must focus on policy, leadership, education/curriculum, and workforce/practice. Removal of restrictions on nursing practices is needed to enable nurses to better tackle public and global health challenges in a variety of health settings. Moreover, we have been busy preparing for hosting the 9th International Council of Nurses (ICN) International Nurse Practitioner/Advanced Practice Nursing Network (INP/APNN) Conference in September of this year. The Conference received great attention and support with over 400 abstracts from 26 countries. I send my heartfelt wishes for the success of this upcoming event.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

In terms of our work in Hong Kong, we are building more bridges and collaborations with many of our stakeholders locally as well as with mainland professional groups and overseas organizations. The 4th Annual General Meeting was held in August 2015 to pass a special resolution to change the name of the Academy to "The Hong Kong Academy of Nursing". The Academy will continue to pursue the statutory status to regulate specialist-nursing practice and to protect the public. Moreover, I am certain that with our charitable organization status we endeavour to raise funds to enhance the development of our Members and Fellows for further contributions to the health of our community. To establish close communication with various stakeholders, we have been holding regular meetings with different authority bodies in the past year, receiving valuable support and constructive advice for the Academy to advance forward. To better plan and guide the development of advanced practice nursing in Hong Kong, we welcome the government to take a lead to map out the future of nursing specialization and advanced practice. We hope that the foundation, which we have built, will be recognized as an appropriate and meaningful platform for future development. It is hoped that the advancement of nursing will enhance the resiliency of our health systems at times of disease outbreak. To strengthen our network with mainland health professionals, Dr. Alice Tso and I were honored to represent Hong Kong nurses to join the Nursing Expert Group of the National Health and Family Planning Commission of the PRC, under the Bureau of Medical Administration.

I am always mindful that all these achievements could only have happened with a large team of co-workers, who are inspirational and passionate leaders, walking together through this long journey. With that being said, I would like to offer special thanks to Dr. Leong Che Hung, our Patron, my mentor for his unfailing selfless support and valuable guidance to the Academy from ground zero of our establishment. To our many Advisors either locally or overseas, my heartfelt thanks for contributing their wisdom and precious time to our work. To Mr. Lester Huang and his team, we applaud and thank them for their continuous support. We look up with sincere appreciation to our healthcare representative in LegCo The Hon. Prof. Joseph Lee's support and advise. Mr. Tony Yen and Mr. William Chan, our grateful thanks for your unsparing support. Last but not least, my deep gratitude goes to our keynote speakers, all our Council Members, Academy Colleges, Organizing Committee Members, volunteers, friends of nurses and HKAN staff for their dedicated contributions and determination in helping the Academy grow together. A huge thanks to you all for sharing our dreams and passion.

Finally, I would like to quote from Florence Nightingale, "So never lose an opportunity of urging a practical beginning, however small, for it is wonderful how often in such matters the mustard-seed germinates and roots itself." And another quote I have paraphrased from Florence is "Oh, leave these jargons, and go your way straight to (God's work) the Academy's work, in simplicity and singleness of heart." My prayer for HKAN is that every mist, our many unknown concern be dispersed. Shine forth clear and strong and invigoratingly with abundant blessings. Let's celebrate our 5th Anniversary together with joy and thankfulness!

*Director, Department of Health, HKSAR
Advisor, The Hong Kong Academy of Nursing*

It gives me great pleasure to congratulate all new Fellows on your conferment of Fellowship. The admission is a testimony to your remarkable personal determination. I also offer my heartfelt thanks to the Academy for your contribution to the maintenance of high standards of nursing practice in Hong Kong.

Over the years, as vital contributor to population health improvement, the nursing profession has been serving our community with a strong dedication and commitment. In a changing world with constant and strong public demands, public expectations of nurses to provide quality nursing services are at an all-time high. Coupled with the fact that healthcare practices and technology are ever developing, the nursing profession has to adopt proactive actions to embrace these challenges. Thus, nursing specialisation has now become a necessity in order to respond to the increasingly sophisticated health system and complexity of clinical judgement. In this regard, accreditation of professional qualifications and competencies are critical for the purpose of recognising nurses' advanced practice knowledge and skills to deliver high quality nursing care. I am confident that the Academy Fellows will be nurse leaders to drive excellence in nursing practice, and to influence the organisational culture in which professional practice and quality health care can flourish.

May I offer my best wishes to all new Fellows and for the future of the nursing profession.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the Council members and staff on your hard work and dedication to nurture the Academy. *Chief Nursing and Midwifery Officer, Department of Health, Queensland Health
Chief Executive Officer of the International Council of Nurses (ICN)
Advisor, The Hong Kong Academy of Nursing*

Distinguished hosts, valued colleagues, special guests,

First let me offer you my apologies for not being able to be with you in person for this special Fellowship Conferment Ceremony. I send you greetings from ICN's Board and staff, and the nurses in ICN's member national nurses associations around the world.

I am delighted that you have chosen the IND theme, Nurses: A Force for Change : Improving Health System's Resilience, for your conference. This theme reflects the key role nurses play in the strength and resilience of health systems around the world.

National nursing associations, such as the College of Nursing Hong Kong, have a leading role to play in ensuring the development of effective health policy to support nurses to perform at their optimal level and maximise the nursing contribution. By developing nurse leaders, NNAs can help to maximise the nursing contribution at all levels of the system. Individual nurses can make an impact, too, by developing their personal resilience, their skills and their networks. Resilience is also about looking after your own physical and mental health and wellbeing. Remember you are a part of the system too!

I wish all of you a wonderful celebration of International Nurses Day and congratulate those nurses who are being honoured with Fellowships at your Conferment Ceremony.

Dr. LEE Kai Yiu Anthony

*Chairman, Hong Kong Private Hospitals Association
Chief Hospital Manager & Medical Director, Union Hospital
Advisor, The Hong Kong Academy of Nursing*

Nursing has the largest member of healthcare professionals, and is the backbone of Hong Kong's public and private healthcare system. As the Chairman of the Hong Kong Private Hospitals Association, I am most delighted to express my heartiest congratulation to the accomplishment of the Hong Kong Academy of Nursing (HKAN) and the Fellows being conferred at today's Ceremony.

The theme for this year's celebration of International Nurses Day 2016 - "Nurses: A Force for Changes: Improving Health System's Resilience" is a concrete example of the HKAN's determination to develop and transform the nursing profession. The complexity of the current healthcare system requires increasing specialisation of nurses, and well prepared nurses with a broad range of in-depth knowledge across the healthcare continuum as this is the key factor in obtaining positive patient outcomes. The process of active participation in these specialised trainings not only allows nurses to develop, maintain, and expand their competence; it also gives nurses the advantage to meet the challenges of the complex and rapidly changing healthcare environment.

My best wishes to all the new Fellows and sincere gratitude to the HKAN for her intuition and continuous effort to groom and nurture our future nurses in specialization.

It is my great pleasure to contribute a message in celebration of Fellowship Conferment 2016

International Nurses Day shines a light on what too often remains invisible: the crucial work of nurses around the world. Nurses are the providers of care and they crusade for healthy communities, alleviate unnecessary suffering and pain, give people not only health and hope but also self-respect.

The theme for International Nurses Day in 2016 is: 'Nurses: A force for change: Improving Health System's Resilience'. A strong and resilient health system is the key to building a healthier and stronger Hong Kong. We have more than 40,000 nurses and we make up the largest sector of our health care workforce in Hong Kong. Together, we are a force for change and we can make enormous impact as we strive to improve our health system's resilience while developing our own personal and professional resilience. We are at the core of resilience.

On this happy occasion of celebration, I am delighted to pay tribute to all nurses in Hong Kong and to extend my heartiest congratulations to the Hong Kong Academy of Nursing for another year of success in this celebration.

Honorary Fellow 2013*

I deeply regret not being with you in person to commemorate the fifth annual fellowship conferral of what is now officially the Hong Kong Academy of Nursing (HKAN) and celebration of International Nurses Day 2016. I rejoice that the name of our organization has changed, and the word “provisional” has been removed, ensuring that the HKAN has a permanency on which to build its programs and vision for the future. As a past president of the American Academy of Nursing (AAN), I have been very impressed with the new visibility of Hong Kong nurses internationally since the creation of the HKAN. Since its inception, I know of six Hong Kong nurses who have been inducted into the AAN and they are all Fellows of the HKAN: Sophia Chan, Sylvia Fung, Claudia Kam Yuk Lai, Tze Fan Diana Lee, Alice Yuen-Loke, and Frances Wong. I applaud how the HKAN is working with specialty colleges, universities and the full spectrum of health care settings to provide high-level educational opportunities, scientific explorations and clinical experiences that can serve as model development globally. I wish the HKAN another successful year to come, and am so honored to be a small part of this cutting-edge organization.

Abstract

Keynote Address:

"Development of the Advanced Practice Nurse through Education, Certification & Service"

The healthcare needs in Singapore is growing in scale and complexity. As innovative options are considered for the provision of healthcare services, there is a corresponding demand for highly-trained, expert nurses who can diagnose and treat patients; as well as lead and coordinate teams of healthcare professionals.

Advanced Practice Nurses (APNs) are healthcare professionals who possess postgraduate nursing education, and training. They manage patients in their own right and are critical partners of doctors and the healthcare team.

The role of the APN may be crafted to address the varied evolving healthcare needs. While this would necessitate a change in mindset, in approach, and in the delivery of care to benefit our patients, the synergistic efforts in education, certification and service, will play a significant part in meeting the emerging and complex needs of the patients.

建設健康中國，護士不可或缺

中華護理學會理事長 李秀華

「沒有全民健康，就沒有全面小康」，健康中國建設已上升至國家戰略層面。截至 2014 年底，中國大陸護士總量超過 300 萬，千人口護士數 2.20，專業服務素質和水準較之前有很大提高。但我們同樣面臨人口老齡化，慢病蔓延，護士短缺等巨大挑戰，2014 年我國老年人口數量已達 2.12 億，人口老齡化水準達到 15.5%，未來可能 93% 的老人都需要居家養老，安寧療護、慢病康復都存在強烈需求，但社區護士嚴重不足，不到護士總量 5%。

中華護理學會致力於打造成為國家護理智庫，用數據呼籲、推動國家為護士立法，將護士列入國家緊缺人才工程建設，引導優秀護理資源向社區輻射。健康中國的建設離不開護士的重要力量，中國護理更需要護理領袖用智慧、創新思維，勇於變革，提高影響力，引領中國護理的大發展。
